

Rights and Responsibilities

Information

It is written in an easy to understand way.

We use pictures to explain things

Let's Start!

What the Disability Act says about rights and responsibilities?

Peoples' rights are protected under the Disability Act 1991.

The Act says that people with disabilities have the same rights and responsibilities as anyone else in the community.

Your Rights?

At TOC You have the right to be treated well and to be involved in the community.

At TOC, Residents have the right:

To be treated with respect and dignity

To be given opportunities to learn & experience

To feel safe in your home
To be supported to achieve goals & potential

To support that restricts your rights in the least way To be treated as an individual and involved in decisions about you

To talk about problems or make a complaint

Your responsibilities?

We all have rights, but we all also have to respect the rights of others. This is called being responsible.

Or we can think about it as being fair to other people.

At TOC, Residents have the responsibilities:

To look after your room

To not break the law

To respect others

To use manners & listen to others

To be part of decisions about how the house will run

To respect the privacy of others

TOC Responsibilities?

It is not just people who need to be fair.

TOC who runs your house, also need to be fair to you.

To treat residents with respect & dignity
To give you a good quality service by skilled employees

To balance fairly rights & safety
To give you a say in decisions in the house

To respect residents privacy
To provide information in an accessible way

To provide details & opportunity to talk to the service
